

The SEIKO Sportura Honda Racing F1 Team Chronograph Born to Race. Destined to win.

Just one idea drives the Honda Racing F1 Team - winning. All 470 members of the team are focused on winning races in 2006 and SEIKO is proud to share their passion for success. To celebrate this shared passion, SEIKO decided to create a new watch bearing the team emblem and it was natural that it be the team itself that provided the direction for the design of the new chronograph. It fulfills the true needs of the race team. It provides split-second timing in a watch where legibility, thanks to the non-reflective crystal and jet black dial, is unrivalled. It is built to be tough - the case is steel and has a screw down back and crown, and the glass is made from scratch resistant sapphire. And, finally, it is presented on a urethane strap whose surface will resist even the ravages of motor-oil spillages.

SEIKO Sportura SNA749
Honda F1 Alarm Chronograph.
The new Honda Racing F1 Team Chronograph.
Sportura's salute to the Honda team's challenge for the FIA Formula One championship in 2006.

The Honda Racing F1 Team's emblem sits proudly alongside SEIKO Sportura on the dial, symbolising the partnership between the two teams.

The Honda Racing F1 Team Chronograph. Born to Race. Destined to win.

Specifications:

- *Alarm Chronograph caliber. 7T62
- *Case: Stainless steel with hard coated top
- *Band: Urethane strap
- *Glass: Sapphire crystal
- *Water resistance: 10 bar
- *Retail price: The approximate recommended retail price in Europe is Euro 525