

July 2014

Novak Djokovic's Wimbledon success takes him back to the top of the world.

On July 6th, Sunday, Novak Djokovic won his second Wimbledon title. As his watch partner, Seiko is delighted to congratulate Novak, and we were proud to see him wearing his new Limited Edition Seiko Astron GPS watch as he collected the trophy. This win is Novak's seventh Grand Slam victory, his 45th ATP trophy, and takes Novak back to the No.1 ranking in world tennis.

Even before Wimbledon, 2014 had been a great year for Novak with wins in Indian Wells, Miami and Rome, but now a good year has become great one, and there are still several tournaments to play. We wish Novak every success in the USA later in the summer and hope to see his Seiko Astron GPS Solar on his wrist at another victory ceremony before his wonderful year ends.

The Seiko Astron GPS Solar Chronograph Novak Djokovic Limited Edition has been custom made for Novak. It carries Novak's signature on the case back and is offered in a special presentation box. It is to be released worldwide in November 2014, and just 2,500 will be made. Details are available at: http://www.seikowatches.com/press_release/2014/RLS1406-01/index.html
